

The Stanford International Law Society presents:

The Ins and Outs of a Career in International Law:
*A Conversation with Zachary Kaufman, J.D., Ph.D.

Tuesday, January 30th, 2018
Room 230
4:00-5:00pm
Refreshments will be served

Wondering what a career in public international law can really look like? Join Dr. Zachary Kaufman for an afternoon coffee hour and hear about his career path through all three branches of the U.S. government, international war crimes tribunals, academia, social entrepreneurship, and beyond.

This event is limited to 15 students on a lottery basis. Please RSVP by Wednesday, Jan. 24th, to be considered.

Zachary D. Kaufman, J.D., Ph.D., is an academic specializing in law, political science, and public policy. His scholarly work focuses on the fields of international law and international relations, including U.S. foreign policy and national security; international and transitional justice; human rights; genocide, war crimes, crimes against humanity, and other atrocity crimes; social entrepreneurship; and the Great Lakes region of sub-Saharan Africa (particularly Rwanda).